Carmel Citizens Committee Calls For Clarification Motel Law

by Gunnar Norberg

Last week the City Council took an astonishing step — by a 4-to-1 vote reversing a unanimous City Planning Commission decision which had sought to stop motel expansion in Carmel residential areas.

Councilmen who voted for this reversal were Herbert Blanks, Even Whittlesey, Ken Brown, and—with what appeared to be hesitation—Mayor Barney Laiolo.

Only Councilman Frank Falge voted "no" on the motion to direct the Planning Commission to reconsider its unanimous disapproval of a request by owners of Edgemere Cottages not only to increase building coverage of two of their motel units but also to expand kitchen and dining room facilities while in the process.

Tuesday afternoon these contradictory Council-versus-Planning Commission actions became the subject of a Carmel Citizens' Committee Board of Directors meeting, and that Board, by unanimous vote, issued the following press release:

"The Board of Directors of the Carmel Citizens' Committee at its meeting on Dec. 10, 1968, agreed unanimously to the following:

"That the exercise of strict control and no expansion of transient lodgings in the single-family residential district of Carmel has been clearly and definitely established by the electorate of Carmel.

"This position has been repeatedly expressed by the residential community and has been the subject of heated comment in the City Council chambers, in public meetings, in the press, and finally was the subject of a petition and referendum.

"The Carmel Citizens' Committee changed its stand and supported the proposed ordinance (No. 156) on assurance that it provided for no expansion, and that certain looseness of language would be revised.

"The then Mayor (Steve Grant) of Carmel, issued a printed statement, dated Jan. 12, 1968, saying:

" 'The ordinance (No. 156) permits the retention of only these existing motels (in residential areas), by use permit, establishes much needed control and positively prohibits further expansion in either use of area.'

"The intent of the ordinance (No. 156) is clear,— no expansion of existing facilities.

"The Carmel Citizens' Committee suports the denial of the Edgemere application by the City Planning Commission for an amendment to its use permit and would strongly object to any action by the City Council (such as last week's) which would permit expansion of the transient facilities in the residential area of Carmel."

The words and numbers, in parentheses, in the above statement, are added to clarify the intent of the Citizens' Committee press release which is being quoted, and which was signed by Admiral C. W. Fisher (USN, Ret.), head of that Committee.

The Edgemere expansion application, which had unanimously been turned down last month by the City Planning Commission, will come before that body again at next week's meeting, for the reconsideration directed by the City Council.

When the City Planning Commission last month refused to approve the Edgemere expansion request, its chairman, Fred Keeble, appointed an ad hoc committee to deal with the looseness of language in the motel control ordinance to which the Citizens' Committee press release alluded.

Members of this ad hoc committee are Charles McEwen, Edward Neroda, and Olof Dahlstrand. This committee may have a preliminary report ready for the commission by the time it convenes in City Hall at 4 o'clock next Wednesday afternoon for its regular December meeting. This meeting, like other City Planning Commission meetings, is open to the public.

It appears to be the view of the public generally that the motel control ordinance approved by voters last spring, no matter how clear or unclear its wording may be, should stop any and all expansion efforts by any and every motel in Carmel residential areas.

The public's view seems to be quite clear: It wants no more lots added to any recently legalized motel, no more units added to any such motel, and no more square-footage or building coverage added to any unit in any such motel.

And this appears to be the view which the Board of Directors of the Carmel Citizens' Committee, unaimously conveyed to the press.

It seems that only the City Council majority is presently at odds with this view.

LADYLIKE EFFORT

A recent visitor to Carmel from the small Duchy of Sitturstan was the distinguished scholar, Count Mioute Paleez, who has been doing research on American customs. In his own country the Count has become renowned as a brilliant lecturer at the Institute for the Collection of Knowledge, founded by his famous grandfather, Count Nohzezz.

(The School is often referred to fondly by students as "Our dear old alma mater, ICK".)

Count Paleez enjoyed his short stay in Carmel, making many notes and sketches on the interesting customs of the natives. On his return to Sitturstan, he devoted his first lecture to a well-known Carmel tribal rite, which he named "The Marked Tire Mazurka".

His sketches, projected upon a screen, astonished the Sitturstan students, who had never seen anything to compare with the intricate steps of the American natives, except perhaps in some of the wilder dances of the African Masai.

The Count has kindly given our paper permission to share some of his sketches with our readers.

CBA Installs New Officers At Christmas Party

The annual Carmel Business Association Christmas dinner Party at which newly elected officers of the group are installed was held Dec. 5, and the event was marked by a large attendence by new members of the organization.

According to Kaye Scott, executive secretary of the business association, this is a most gratifying development, since it indicates an awakening interest by Carmel merchants in working as a group for mutual betterment.

Installed as president of the CBA was Mrs. Harriet Barter of Karen's Kreations and Kapers, who was handed the presidential gavel by outgoing president Charles W. McEwen of Catlin-McEwen Realty.

Other officers installed were James Peter Cost, Carmel Seascape Gallery as vice president; Don Nelson, manager of the Carmel branch of the United California Bank, treasurer.

Membership in the CBA has taken an upward spiral in November and so far in December, as several Carmel businesses have changed hands and the new owners have hastened to join.

Newest members of CBA include Studio Seven, Jewelry Design, Finishing Touch, Norway House, Armstrong Paper, Avis of Carmel Rent-a-Car, Carmel Drug, Village Hardware and Attorney Richard T. Wilsdon.

The Backyard for Boys, Carmel Hacienda, The San Antonio House, Swiss Tavern, Storybook Toys and Gifts, The Neares, Edy Lowder's, Carmel Inn for Seniors, Mariam Bridwell, Realtor, Bayard Radio and the One-hour Martinizing Dry Cleaning.

Members who have decorated windows for the CBA window contest will know who won the prizes when the Carmel Christmas Tree is lighted Sunday, Dec. 15 at 5:30 p.m.

WITH GREAT PLEASURE—Newly-installed president of the Carmel Business Association Mrs. Harriet Barter, accepts the gavel of her office from outgoing president Charles W. McEwen. The installation took place Dec. 5 at the organization's annual Christmas dinner party.

Monterey County Symphony

by Rachel Morton

That people of the Monterey Peninsula really love fine music was attested to Tuesday night, when, despite a downpour of rain, the Sunset Auditorium was filled to capacity.

The splendid concert given by the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Haymo Taeuber and with Gabor Rejto as cello soloist, amply rewarded the "stout of heart" who braved the storm.

A rarely heard composition (in this country at least) by an equally unknown composer, Franz Schmidt of Austria, was entitled Interlude from the opera "Notre Dame." It opened the program.

"Interlude" indeed it proved to be, for although giving much musical promise, with rich orchestration, almost Wagnerian in spots, it was finished when scarcely begun. But I liked the sample.

Our esteemed orchestra is taking on an European lustre: conductor Taeuber is from Austria; concertmaster Felix Khuner was born in Vienna, and first cellist and assistant conductor, William van den Burg comes from Holland. These men contribute much to the "lustre."

The soloist of the evening, Gabor Rejto, was born in Budapest and was a pupil of Pablo Casals. Dvorak's Concerto in B minor which he played is one of the great concertos. It is rich in flavor and deeply stirring musically.

With power and dash, Mr. Taeuber set the music afire, tapering off for a beautiful French horn solo. With the same fire and dash began the cello in dazzling pyrotechnics—sure-fingered and full of vitality. No less vital was the superb support of the orchestra.

The gorgeous music of the second movement was an emotional experience, enhanced by the velvet tone of the cello. "Agitato" in rhythm and mood, the third

Negro History Books Donated To CHS Library

As a memorial to Robert F. Kennedy, the Carmel Democratic Women's Club has donated a collection of 23 books covering the history of Negroes in the U.S. from Civil War to the present to the Carmel High School library.

Worth about $100, the collection is also being donated to the other high schools on the Peninsula.

A subscription to the "Chicago Defender," Negro newspaper, was also donated. (Dr. H. I. Hayakawa, acting president of S.F. State College, once wrote for this paper.)

A cash donation of $195.35 by W. Bradford Dow also was accepted by the Carmel School Board. This will cover the expense of removing a portion of wall and installing four folding doors between two classrooms at River School.

Dow, who has three children at the school, was impressed by a teacher's remark that they could work more effectively as a team if this were done.

A letter of appreciation will also go to County Road Commissioner Bruce McClain and his staff, for their cooperation on improvement of the street and adjoining parking lot at River School.

Letter To The Editor

Editor,
Carmel Pine Cone:

Those of us who attended the Carmel Council Meeting of December 4, witnessed it's opening with the introduction of the momentous question of Motel Edgemere's rehabilitation and so called expansion as the evening's beginning.

Moot was the question as to whether a present 23% area coverage might be increased to 25% coverage in an area whose building code allowance is 35% and still continue to rate a restricted motel use permit.

Ensued some forty minutes of officialdom rampant in a sea of bureaurocracy until confusion, tired nerves, indecision and aimlessness had brought the Council and many of its audience to a tired state of "nowhere-to-go" with an air of sadness and frustration writ large on the countenances of the unenthusiastic Councilmen.

In the depths of such depression, the popular innkeeper Ashton Stanley got the floor from the audience to assert that: improving one's property, especially at limits a fourth below code coverage was indeed a worthy undertaking, one that the neighbors quite approved, and one that rather than being an "intrusion" on residence areas, was in the way of an enhancement thereof.

Stanley's presentation was so simple and practical as to lift the pall of painful official confusion from all but one sad Councilman. Four of them then rose to the challenge of common sense, and a bit joyously resumed their normal role of intent to do the best for their town available and really, not "startlingly," ruled against the Planning Commission.

This, your humourless reporter wholly overlooked in his Dec. 5 article.

As against this oversight, we thought that Stanley's revivifying of the Council, bringing action out of indecision, deserved a write up in the Pine Cone, so here it is for whosoever enjoy the interposition of good humor into the realms of bleak official frustration.

Carmel Youth Center Directs Christmas Tree Lighting Dec. 5

The annual lighting of the official Carmel City Christmas Tree will take place Sunday, Dec. 15 at 5:30 p.m., at Carmel Plaza across from Devendorf Park.

As in past years, the Carmel Youth Center will be in charge of the program, with Robert Forbes effecting the over-all coordination for the event.

Youth Center Vice-president Jimmie DeAmaral will act as master of ceremonies.

Assisting in the colorful annual event will be the Carmel High School music department, headed by Henry Avila.

A musical program including performances by the high school Brass Choir, made up of Chris Laiolo, Paul Breck, Tom Pelton, Rick Herd, Lany Challis and Randy Douglas, and featuring the voices of the school's Girls' Chorus, will be presented.

Charles McEwen, Carmel Business Association president, will present awards for the best Christmas window display.

As a climax to the early evening event, Carmel Mayor Barney Laiolo will flip the switch lighting the living Christmas Tree, and the lights will burn brightly for the Yule Season.

Amplification of all the sounds connected with this Sunday event will be accomplished through systems furnished by Fritz's Radio and TX Repair Company.

Classroom Shortage Relief Plan By Supt. H. A. Taylor

A plan to relieve the classroom shortage at the middle school and high school level by 1971 was presented to the Carmel School Board by Supt. Dr. Harris A. Taylor at the meeting Wednesday evening.

The plan called for designating a district architect in January and initiation of planning for additions and renovations to the Middle School site in preparation for use by the Carmel High School; and to the high school site in preparation for use by Middle School.

The 50 acre Middle School site would accomodate the 1500 high school students expected by that time. It was planned for easy convertability with that switch in mind.

The 27 acre high school site will accomodate the 800 pupils considered to be an ideal size limit for Middle School students.

In the meantime, Taylor suggested assigning grade 5 to the various elementary schools to relieve pressures until additional pupil stations are available.

Taylor further proposed that in September planning might begin for additions to Carmelo School to increase its capacity from 250 to 600 pupils.

The purpose of this addition would be to house additional K-5 pupils and house 6th grade pupils if the Middle School exceeds the 800 pupils limitation.

The Carmelo School addition would eliminate need to develop a new elementary site and postpone building a new middle school on the Scarlet Road site owned by the District.

Bond Election March 1970

A successful bond election in March 1970 would allow construction at Middle School to begin in June 1970; alterations of buildings on middle school and high school sites to begin in June 1971.

In September 1971, the exchange of high school and middle school could take place. Construction on additions to Carmelo School could begin, to be completed by September of 1972.

Reactions

Board member Richard T. Wilsdon wondered if it wouldn't be rather hard on the children as well as the administration to have all this shifting of fifth and sixth grades back and forth from elementary to Middle School.

Mrs. Joan Spear, member of the All Year School Committee, which has not yet reported to the board, asked if they were not assuming that the report would be negative.

Steven H. Sassoon, board president, replied, "We have made no decisions. We have been waiting for your report. We are simply getting some preliminary fact finding and planning out of the way."

Other board members wondered what would happen to the foreign language department if the fifth and sixth grades were split off from Middle School. Others objected to so many "shakedown" periods of adjustment of programs.

To these Taylor answered humorously, "I don't wish to bleed for this plan, but it is a plan."

Carolling Starts At Devendorf Park Dec. 15 To 23

The annual Christmas carolling at Devendorf Plaza, held in conjunction with the Carmel City Christmas Tree lighting, will this year be under the direction of Carmel High School music director Henry Avila.

Immediately following the lighting of the tree, the carols will start, featuring the Girs' Glee Club of Carmel High School, and saxophone quartet will play music of the holiday season.

The carollers will be joined by young people from churches throughout Carmel. They will group around a lighted creche and hand out candles and song books to all who will sing along with them.

A schedule of host groups has been worked out by Father Art Cunningham of All Saints' Episcopal Church and Miss Jo Brazell of Carmel Mission Basilica, youth advisors for the carolling, which will go on each evening from 7 until 7:30 p.m. at Devendorf Park until Dec. 23.

All churches and organizations join the high school on Sunday, Dec. 15. All Saints' and Woods School sing together on Monday, Dec. 16; Carmel Mission and River School Dec. 17; Presbyterian Church and Middle School Dec. 18; Community Church of the Monterey Peninsula and Carmelo School Dec. 19.

Church of the Wayfarer and the Scouts on Dec. 20, Carmel Valley churches and Tularcitos School Dec. 21, and on Dec. 22 the Middle School Foreign Language department will sing French and German carols, and be joined by Carmel clubs and civic groups.

Carolling ends on the evening of Dec. 23, when once again, all churches will host all those who wish to join them to sing or join them just to listen.

'Artists of Carmel—15 Profiles' by Dorothy Johnson

A small paperback volume, beautifully illustrated and produced, containing profiles of 15 living Carmel artists, has recently been published by d'Angelo Publishing Company of Monterey.

Written by Dorothy Johnson of Carmel and Palo Alto, the profiles are short but informative, and give an idea of the philosophy behind each artist's work.

For this first volume, a cross section of well-known artists has been chosen to illustrate the variety of work done in Carmel.

The stories of early comers such as Iris Alberto who with her concert pianist husband arrived in 1929, and John Cunningham who in 1939 started the Carmel Art Institute are mixed with later arrivals such as Emile Norman of Big Sur whose inlaid wood sculptures are shown here and Robert Horne.

Work of traditionalists, as well as contemporary style artists and every gradation in between, are included.

Other artists covered are James Peter Cost, Janet Ament and Victor Di Gesu, Helen Dooley, Gene Elmore, Francisco Ferro, Joe Feuerborn, Danny Garcia, Ralph Jacobs, Gerald Wasserman and Yuen San Lim.

The book is reasonable in price, and should prove a popular gift item for those interested in Carmel artists.

Some of the interviews by Dorothy Johnson were excerpts from her work published last year by the PINE CONE. Dorothy is originally from Texas.

Publisher Andre d'Angelo and his wife Dorie have lived in Carmel for 10 years. Mrs. d'Angelo is a therapist and lecturer. They used to run the Art of Living Center here.

Delta Gamma Party

Delta Gammas, newcomers or visiting, are warmly invited to join others in the area at a Christmas cocktail party to be held on Sunday, Dec. 15, from 5 to 7 o'clock.

Randi Ayres Is Engaged

A Sunday brunch at the Carmel Valley home of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Stoney was the occasion at which the engagement of Randi May Ayres of Carmel Valley to Lee E. Osnas of San Francisco was announced recently.

Both Randi and Lee are seniors at Fresno State College. After graduating from Carmel High School in 1964, Randi attended the University of Colorado in Boulder for two years where she was a member of Alpha Chi Omega. She is majoring in zoology.

Randi is the daughter of Mrs. Horace W. Ayres and the late Horace Ayres of Carmel Valley. She has a brother Mark, and her grandmother, Mrs. Chris L. Johnson lives in the valley.

Lee, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Osnas of San Francisco, is majoring in agronomy at Fresno State.

PWP Marriages

Two marriages have been reported recently by the Parents Without Partners bulletin.

One is that of Thi-Dieu Vien Chan who recently married Lowell Adams of Carmel Valley. Vien was responsible for the establishment of a PWP group in Saigon. She teaches Vietnamese at the Defense Language Institute.

The other is that of Jane Silvertson of Carmel who married Bill Blauer. Jane is a clinical psychologist with the Monterey County Health Department. She has served as a professional advisor to PWP.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Snyder

Wed at Carmel Mission Basilica

The joyful looking bride and groom who left the Carmel Mission Basilica on Saturday were the former Lauren Ann Sparks of Carmel and Joseph Dean Snyder of Pacific Grove.

Msgr. Marron performed the 1 o'clock ceremony. Lauren was given in marriage by her father, Lt. Col. Laurence E. Sparks (ret).

The bride wore a gown of candlelight satin with a cathedral train. Her three tiered illusion veil was attached to a camelot cap of satin, and she carried a nosegay of white carnations with yellow roses.

Her attendants, dressed in Kelly green taffeta, carried nosegays of deep gold margaritas trimmed with yellow and gold ribbons.

Donald Snyder, the groom's brother, served as best man and his ushers included Jack Ketchenick, of Mt. Lakes, New Jersey, a cousin of the bride.

Following a reception at La Novia Room, at the Naval Postgraduate School, the couple left for a week of skiing.

Willoughby Leland Nason Will Marry

March 22 is the date chosen by Betsy Moore Kay of Palo Alto and Willoughby Leland Nason of Pebble Beach whose engagement was recently announced.

Betsy is the daughter of Mrs. Jerry Skerry Kay of Palo Alto and the late L. Douglas Kay. She is a graduate of Awalt High School, Los Altos, and of Foothill College. She is a member of the Los Altos Hunt Club.

Willoughby is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hal Wyman Nason of Pebble Beach. He was a student at Robert Louis Stevenson School and of Windlesham House School in Sussex, England. He will graduate from Stanford University next year.

He is a member of the North London Rifle Club and the Beach and Tennis Club of Pebble Beach.

Willoughby has two sisters, Mrs. Marvin Hall of Palo Alto and Mrs. Paul Morlang of Reno, and a brother, Frank Nason of Oxnard.

Elegance and Ingenuity Displayed At the Mark Thomas Inn

It was hard to say which was more fascinating, the "Christmas Creations" by members and friends of the Monterey Museum of Art shown at the Mark Thomas Inn last week, or the gorgeous, beautifully designed and expensive jewelry modelled by its members at the "Return to Elegance" fashion show luncheon on Tuesday.

Mrs. Daniel Gornel displays costly pin.

Mrs. George T. McMahon wore her white mink dress (which she had worn to the Howard Allen pre-holiday party in Pebble Beach), a perfect background for the lapis lazuli and diamond pin.

Mrs. Frank O'Neal who has her own shop, Mary May's, looked stunning in all black. Mrs. Dan (Lucinda) Gornel wore shocking pink and Mrs. C. Mark (Jean) Thomas pale blue.

Mrs. Barbara Tripp, who is a decorator, wore a gold paper dress costing a few dollars with a gold necklace with detachable diamond pin worth thousands.

Mrs. Monte (Kay) Harrington was dressed in white leather and carried a white fox as complement to the crown ring and other jewels she had picked out at Lindemann's in San Francisco.

Other models were Mrs. William (Margaret) Arnold, MPMA president, and Mrs. Judson Sherrill. Mrs. Roderick Dewar was in charge.

Mrs. Frank O'Neal shows bracelet.

Oriental Trip

Mr. and Mrs. John McDaniels of Carmel Highlands returned not long ago from six weeks in the Orient.

While being shown around Japan by a cousin who lives there, they stayed at a 200-year-old Japanese inn. They slept on the floor, ate fish, and pretended they were Japanese.

They spent several days in Taiwan and Hong Kong and visited old Bangkok, a storybook city of beautiful architecture and bright colors.

On the way back they relaxed in Hawaii, and John visited conservation projects on Mauii.

AFS Christmas Bake Sale

A festive bake sale will be held Saturday, Dec. 14 at the entrance to the Purity Market in downtown Carmel. It is sponsored by the American Field Service International Scholarship committee and will feature Christmas "goodies" which can either be used now, refrigerated, or frozen to await Christmas entertaining. There will be Christmas cookies, breads, candies, and cakes.

The Carmel AFS Chapter now has a Malaysian girl, Miss Grace Lim attending Carmel High School and living with the Jack Bruce family. Miss Sherry Stuart from Carmel High School is living with a family in Vienna, Austria and attending school there.

American Field Service is a non-profit, educational organization with the goal of furthering international understanding by knowing youth from throughout the world and giving our young people an opportunity to be youthful "ambassadors" as they live and study abroad.

Wayfarer Children's Choir To Be Heard in Vietnam

The long-playing record "The Sound of Christmas" made by the Children's Choir of the Church of the Wayfarer under the direction of Ann (Mrs. C.E.) Welchner last year will be heard in Vietnam soon.

Bob Hope will take 25 copies for distribution at various service clubs there.

Others who helped make the record were Connell K. (Mrs. William) Carruth, organist; Nancy (Mrs. William Hays) Ballard, harpist; Dr. Welton Lee (of the Hopkins Marine Station), violinist; Fred Schaad, pianist; Chris Robinson (Carmel High School student), drummer, and Rev. H. M. M. Nicholas, special sound effects.

The youngsters sang recently at the Highlands Inn.

100TH BIRTHDAY—is celebrated by Perry L. McDonald of Carmel Valley as he stands before a cartoon by Feg Murray, a former neighbor, who for years was syndicated by King Features.

Perry McDonald Celebrates his 100th

A birthday party to celebrate his 100th birthday was given by the daughter of Perry L. McDonald, Mrs. William (Beatrice) Vaughn at their ranch on Robinson Canyon Road in Carmel Valley. A large cake was cut and many old friends and neighbors were present. Greetings from President Johnson, Gov. Reagan, and others were received.

Mr. McDonald started the first milk delivery in Carmel in 1919 when there were only 400 people here.

Milk was then 12 cents a quart and customers left their money and orders unguarded in "milk shrines," like oversize mail boxes on posts, one or two to the block, where the milk was left.

Later he opened a soda fountain and dairy on San Carlos where Zany's Zalad Bar is now.

Still later he retired to the Valley where he has raised a corn crop ever since. He still uses a hoe and a tractor, and cultivates fruit trees and flowers.

He is well known around the Farm Center for his New Years' Eve ritual of blowing loud blasts on his steam whistle which is a relic of his milk sterilizer.

Mr. McDonald's wife, Mary, died in 1946. He has another daughter, Elizabeth Joan a sister superior at Notre Dame Convent in Watsonville.

Son Raymond is a psychologist at Vacaville Medical Facility. He has seven children. Daughter Beatrice has two.

Skiing in Heavenly Valley

After Thanksgiving Mrs. Jack J. Miller drove daughter Tina to the University of Nevada. At Al Tahoe she spent six days visiting son Jay, a student at Tahoe Paradise College, and skiing in Heavenly Valley.

The snow was very good considering the spring-like weather during the daytime. The new snow fall this week should make skiing terrific during the Christmas holidays.

Cranberries and Popcorn

An old-fashioned Christmas tree hung with cranberries, popcorn and little musical instruments was the center of interest at the Symphony Guild Christmas party at Casa Serrano last week.

Director Haymo Taeuber pre-viewed the recent symphony concert program for the 120 members and guests.

Christmas cookies and cranberry bread were served with spiced fruit punch by the hospitality committee headed by Mrs. Thomas Avery Roper and Miss Genevieve Gehres. The table was decorated with tinsel and small musical instruments.

CARMEL CONCERT—Fort Ord's 45-piece concert band which will present a program of Christmas music at Sunset Auditorium in Carmel at 2 p.m. on Sunday Dec. 15. The concert, open to the public, will be a benefit for the Monterey Peninsula Community Chest.

'Music to Please Kids' Theme of Christmas Concert

Hey Kids!

Want to strike back at the establishment?

You're always being hit with the restriction: "Children not admitted unless accompanied by adults."

Here's your chance!

On Sunday, Dec. 15, at 2 p.m. in Carmel's Sunset Auditorium, Fort Ord's concert band will present a Christmas program especially for you.

Adults not admitted unless accompanied by children!

The concert will be an excellent way to get into the spirit of the Christmas season. The program will get underway with the medley, "Kiddie Ballet," which includes such numbers as "Strolling the Baby Stroller," "Lullaby for a Naughty Girl," "Cops and Robberts," and "Nightmare."

A selection from Hansel and Gretel "Prayer and Dream Pantomime," will follow. Two of Leroy Anderson's compositions, "A Christmas Festival" and "Sleigh Ride" will conjure visions of Jolly Saint Nick.

From Babes in Toyland will be Victor Herbert's "March of the Toys," to be followed by two other fast stepping numbers, "Dance of the Gnomes" and "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers."

"The Toy Trumpet," "Carol of the Drum" and "Christmas March" will round out the program.

The Fort Ord Concert Band's program actually is serving a dual purpose, the first being the Army's Christmas present to the boys and girls of this area. The concert also is being held as a benefit for the Monterey Peninsula Community Chest. Donations of $1 per person will be accepted at the door by Chest representatives.

(P.S. To Adults: If you have no children, but are young at heart, you'll be welcome too!)

Swiss Show Love of Freedom in Demonstration Of Practical Military Training, Reserves

Villars sur Ollon, Switzerland — This part of Switzerland has the look of an armed garrison.

The highways and trains are crowded with troops going to and coming from annual army reserve training, reminiscent of California's Highway 101 near Camp Roberts in the summer months.

The village of Villars has been "occupied" by a large contingent of medical troops and nurses, who have turned the village's former railway station into a command post and the fire station into a field hospital.

This morning in our apartment high above Villars, we heard the strains of military music, so we dressed hurriedly and rushed down with our cameras to the village.

A Swiss Army band was giving a concert in honor of the medical unit's commander and his staff, and the townspeople, particularly the children, were enjoying it immensely.

I was so busy with my camera, recording the antics of the children, some of whom were standing on the hoods of military trucks, mimicking the conductor, that I was unaware that the commanding officer had taken note of what I was doing.

Later in the day, however, while my wife and I were having coffee in a local cafe, the colonel walked over to our table and introduced himself.

In fluent English, he told us that he had noticed that I had taken pictures at the band concert and would it be possible for him to borrow the negatives?

I quickly agreed, and invited him to sit down with us. He presented his card on which was printed, "Dr. Med. F. Langraf-Favre, spezialarzt FMH fur Ohren-, Nasen- und Halskrankheiten; Zurich 1."

He explained that his unit was one of the many reserve units to take their annual training in this area, and that most of the personnel were from this French-speaking Canton, although he was from the German-speaking Canton of Zurich. His French was fluent so there were no language barriers for him to hurdle.

I explained to him that I was a retired reserve officer with twenty-four years of service, and was still keenly interested in reserve matters. He replied, "But you are far too young to be retired!" (I'm 42).

This reaction, I suppose, is quite natural, because in Switzerland, all able-bodied men from the age of 19 to 65 remain in the army reserve, subject to call at any time.

This Swiss full-time army consists of only several hundred professional officers and non-commissioned officers, who plan and staff the training and field exercises of 700,000 men; this in a country of only 5 million people!

With 700,000 men in the army reserves, this is the equivalent of a reserve force of 21,00,000 men for the United States.

Every Swiss reservist keeps his uniform, field equipment, weapon and sixty rounds of ammunition at home, ready for a sudden mobilization.

It isn't widely known in the U. S. that Switzerland was in imminent danger of invasion by the Germans during World War II. Swiss intelligence was aware of the plan, and Switzerland's wiley General Guisan let German spies know just how well prepared the country was to resist a German attack: all bridges, tunnels, factories, hydro-electric plants, and highways were set to be blown up immediately in the event of a German invasion.

This would deny the German Army in Italy its primary supply routes through Swiss tunnels, and a scorched-earth shambles would be of little value to Germany, so the invasion was called off. In addition, the Germans knew they would have faced a large, well equipped army, highly trained in mountain warfare.

It's easy to imagine what a fight these part-time soldiers could put up; many are rugged mountain bred farmers who are equipped with the most modern automatic weapons.

The Swiss have managed to keep out of wars for almost two hundred years, but they make no bones about being prepared if war is forced upon them.

Reviews for Young Readers

By Allene Fremier

With the Christmas season having arrived, this column will be devoted to suggestions of books for possible Christmas giving.

A book is a very personal gift and hard to select for someone.

Therefore, the suggestions will be mentioned in a rather general way.

Biographies are fun to read and should be valuable for more than one reading, or at least for checking factual material after having read the book. Which biography to choose will depend upon the interests of the prospective owner.

For example, two excellent biographies were recently published about the discovery of X-rays, which a budding young scientist should enjoy.

Arnulf K. Esterer has written Discoverer of Rays: Wilheld Conrad Roentgen, including in its excerpts from letters and diaries of Roentgen.

The other one is Wilhelm Conrad Roentgen and the Discovery of X-rays, by Bern Dibner. This describes the events leading up to and following the discovery, including the reaction of the public to this event.

Biographies about various people provide interest and variety, such as The Seven Stages, by Geoffrey Trease.

Seven great figures of the theatre have been selected for this work by Trease, including Christopher Marlowe, Moliere, Verdi, Jenny Lind and Anna Pavlova.

The Nehrus of India by Beaturice Pitney Lamb, deals mainly with Jawaharlal Nehru, but also tells of the family—of Motilal, the grandfather; Jawaharlal, the son and Indira Nehru Gandhi, the granddaughter.

With biographies such as these mentioned, not only the life of the individual comes alive, but also the history of the period and the place. Let me mention one more biography which is exciting and of current interest.

The Story of Gandhi, by Taya Zinkin is the story of Gandhi, the man, as well as Gandhi, the politician. It tells of his devotion to India and his use of passive resistance to obtain her freedom.

It also tells of the frustration of his wife and sons, who had little understanding of the man who gave himself to humanity, but who had only a slight awareness of the problems in his own home.

Men in Armor, by Richard Suskind describes the system of knighthood, tells of the training necessary and the code of chivalry.

Walter Buehr, who has written so many non-fiction books for young people, has now now done The Viking Explorers, which is a subject which many young boys find fascinating. These are just a few of the many possibilities.

For the younger fry, the Miroslav Sasek books might be considered. His This is London, This Is Israel, This Is San Francisco, This Is New York, and many others are informative, brief, delightfully illustrated and have a nice touch of humor.

Take my word for it, there are lots and lots of good suggestions. Come in and browse through the collection in the library, and we will be happy to offer suggestions.

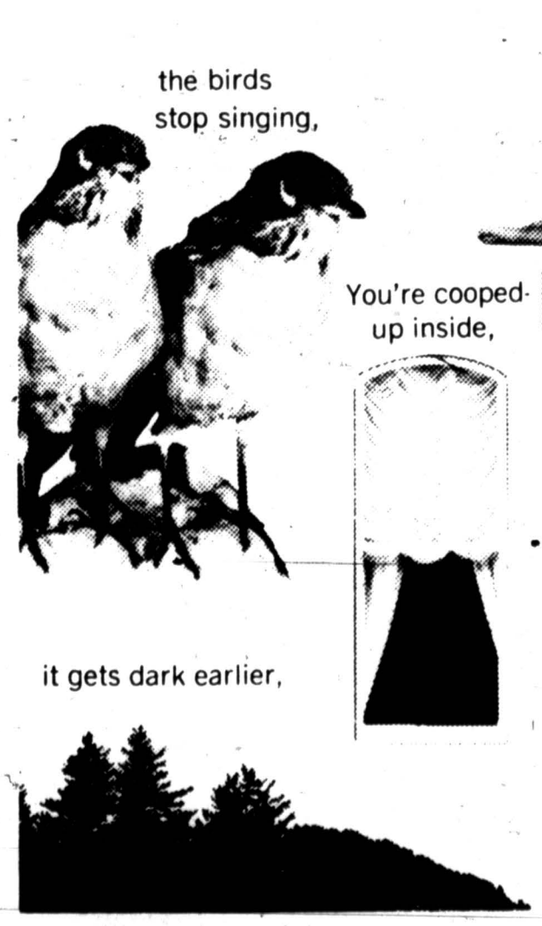
Winter's a pain.

the birds stop singing,

you can't go to the beach,

You're cooped up inside,

and your PG&E bills go up.



it gets dark earlier,

But look at the brighter side. Think of all the delicious hot meals, cozy warmth, television watching and other indoor comforts you're now enjoying. You're buying a little more PG&E energy to make winter a lot less painful. But with six reductions in our gas and electricity rates in the past five years—it's still the biggest bargain in your family budget.

Last Chance To Claim Medicare Pay

Ira Land, social security officer-in-charge for Monterey, urges everyone signed up for the doctor bill insurance part of Medicare to spend some time between now and the end of the year in reviewing to see if the program owes them some money.

This is most important for those older people who incurred expenses for covered medical services between Oct. 1, 1966, and Sept. 30, 1967.

If a claim isn't made for reimbursement of these expenses by Dec. 31, 1968, it will not be possible to make a payment.

Land pointed out that in the past, some Medicare beneficiaries postponed making a claim because they thought that if the doctor declined to take an assignment, the patient had to submit a receipted bill with his application.

Unable to supply evidence of having paid the doctor or the medical supplier, they failed to file a claim, he added.

"These people are in danger of shortchanging themselves," Land said.

All social security offices are prepared to help people make claims for doctor bill insurance payments. Those who still haven't applied for reimbursement for medical services and goods received between Oct. 1, 1966, and Sept. 30, 1967 are urged to apply before Jan. 1, 1969. Beginning with that date, it may be too late.

Wore's Works Features New CMA Exhibit

The new exhibition of the Carmel Museum of Art will feature the works of Theodore Wores (1858-1939), called by critics "An Artist in Search of the Picturesque."

The exhibit will open at the museum, located on Dolores between Ocean and 7th, on Dec. 17, and will be open to the public until March of 1969.

Museum members will attend a preview showing on Monday, Dec. 16, and the Hartnell College Chamber singers will entertain.

Wores was a San Francisco artist who often painted the gardens of Monterey at the turn of the century. A charming cosmopolitan, he won international honors and acclaim.

Theodore Wores was born in San Francisco on Aug. 1, 1858, attended the Art Association there, then studied four years in Munich and two in Italy with Frank Duveneck.

Upon his return to San Francisco in 1881, he became active in teaching as well as portrait, figure and landscape painting. At this early time he made paintings of Chinatown, a part of San Francisco which disappeared in the 1906 fire.

His stern Munich training makes all of his pictures artistically strong, his own objective selection of detail makes them historically interesting, and his innate poetical concept makes them joyful.

Always he painted flowers —on the dunes and in the gardens of the areas near San Francisco, Marin County, and on the Monterey Peninsula and Carmel.

His last exhibition of paintings was in the Golden Gate Exposition (1939-1940) in San Francisco, and he died in that city on Sept. 11, 1939.

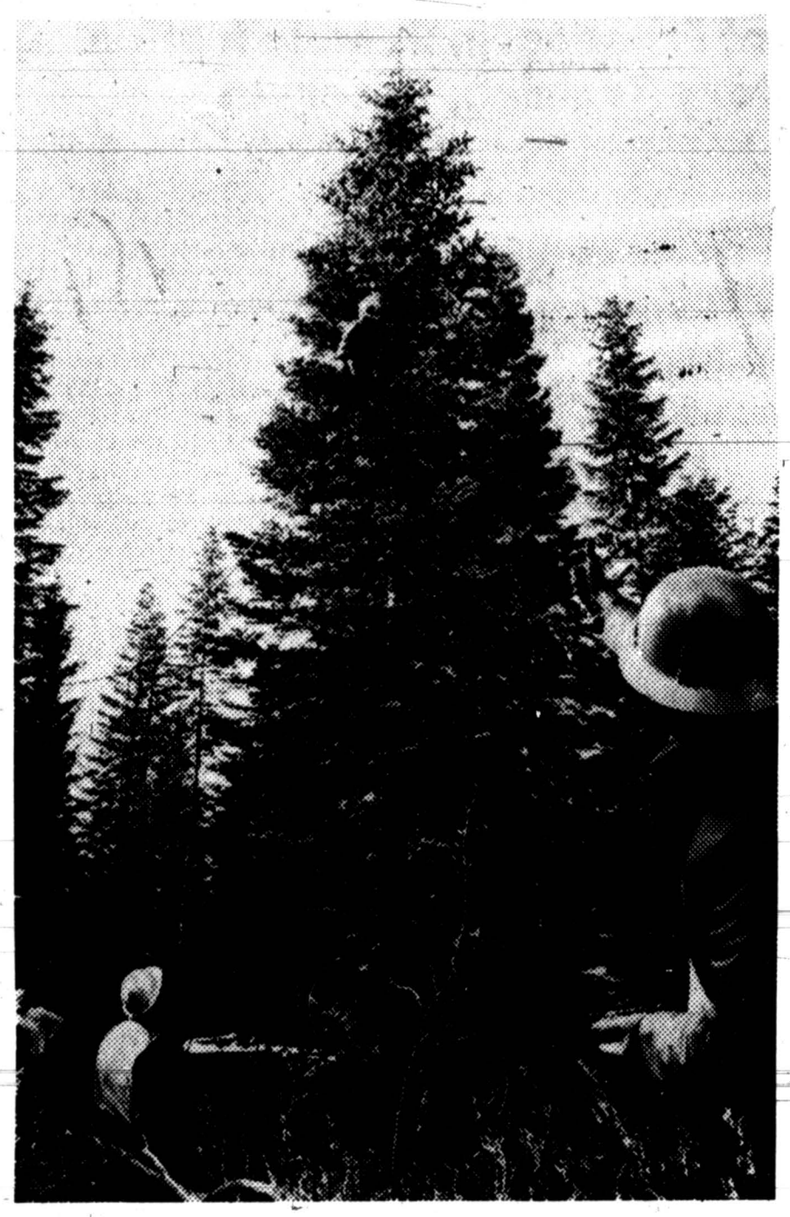
Where Did We Get That Christmas Custom?

The next time you get bussed under the mistletoe you might want to inform your "busser" that centuries ago mistletoe was used as a charm against witches and thunder, say researchers at the Shulton Company, makers of Old Spice. While you're at it, make sure that the Yule log stays lit throughout the night.



Christmas Trees For State Capitol

A perfectly symmetrical 27 foot white fir tree, harvested from Pacific Gas and Electric Company property at Grouse Ridge, Nevada County, will become California's official Christmas tree.

This is the fifth consecutive year that PG&E has presented the official state Christmas tree to the people of California.

State Capitol park workers under the direction of Dan L. Johnson, state landscape architect, and PG&E foresters cut the trees within a quarter of a mile of the site where the nation's Christmas tree was harvested for shipment to Washington, D. C. in 1966.

The stately 27 foot white fir will be located in the rotunda of the State Capitol and will become the focal point of Christmas events for legislators and state workers.

Johnson said he expects the tree to be lighted for the first time on Dec. 16. Governor Ronald Reagan will be present at noon on Dec. 17 for the first of a series of noontime caroling events to last until Christmas eve.

Te Vega For Sale

A 96-foot tuna clipper is being purchased by Stanford University to replace the sailing schooner Te Vega in the biological oceanographic teaching and research program conducted by Stanford's Hopkins Marine Station at Pacific Grove.

Prof. Malvern Gilmartin, director of the program, also announced that the 135-foot Te Vega will be put up for sale. Its operations, which have been supported by research grants from the National Science Foundation (NSF), will be terminated.

The NSF will continue its support of the program in operations of the new research vessel—to be named the "Proteus" after the Greek sea god. The Proteus will accommodate nine oceanographers and a crew of seven, while the Te Vega carried 15 of each.

New Resident Given Autograph Party

Carmel has a new author in its midst, Elizabeth Baker, whose new book, "Cherokee Country," has just been published.

As its title suggests, it is a historical novel of the Cherokee Strip, filled with romance, humorous early Western dialect, and even some whacking good recipes handed down from the days of the early settlers.

Mrs. Baker is being given an autograph party at the Thunderbird Book Shop on Friday, Dec. 13, from 12 until 3.

She and her husband, Dr. Elton M. Baker, who is a chemistry professor and science advisor, have purchased a home in Carmel and are planning to stay put for awhile after a life of travel which has taken them all over the world.

Mrs. Baker was born in Oklahoma, on the claim staked by her paternal grandfather in the Cherokee Strip Run. One thirty-second Cherokee Indian, she grew up on the land.

Library Clerk Opening

An opening for a library clerk has been announced at Monterey Peninsula College, with applications to be taken until Dec. 16 and the position to start Dec. 23.

Applicants should have had one year of responsible clerical work, preferably in a library. Qualifications include a knowledge of standard library techniques and terminology, clerical methods and office machines; and the ability to type accurately, perform reference work, use the Dewey decimal system and assist patrons in selection of library materials.

The position pays $419-$504 monthly and provides several fringe benefits. Applicants must be United States citizens. MPC is an equal opportunity employer.

Applications will be accepted by Dr. John Baron, business manager, at the college.

Corbat Honored

Long hours of studying basic gemology and successfully completing a comprehensive written examination on the science of identifying and evaluating diamonds and other gem stones has qualified Mr. Henri Corbat, of Henri Corbat Swiss Shop Jeweler, San Carlos and Fifth, Carmel, to become a Registered Jeweler, a title of merit awarded by the American Gem Society.

In receiving this title, the firm will enjoy the privilege of being known as a Registered Jeweler which is awarded only to jewelry stores of proven integrity throughout the United States and Canada.

Golden Goblet to Joan Willingham

Joan Willingham, Carmel representative of the Mary Kay Inc., cosmetic firm, was recently honored for her outstanding achievement at a national awards banquet held in Dallas.

Mrs. Willingham, whose shop is located at Dolores and 7th, was presented a golden goblet symbolic of her record sales performance with the Dallas-based firm.

Carmel's Joan Willingham and the Golden Goblet.

The award was made by Mary Kay Ash, chairman of the board at the firm's Fifth Annual Seminar, attended by more than 2,000 company representatives.

The Mary Kay organization specializes in personal skin care products for both men and women and has nearly 4,000 beauty consultants operating in 43 states. The Golden Goblet award is the highest recognition obtainable by the consultants.

After her return from Dallas last week, Mrs. Willingham held an all-day workshop for her Mary Kay cosmetic beauty consultants in the Crystal Room of the Pine Inn.

The consultants were brought up to date on the latest wrinkles (and removal of same) in the field of beauty.

Sunset Notes

by Dr. James E. Gilman

One of the busiest areas of creative activity at Sunset Cultural Center is the studio of sculptor Gilbert Ward Amberg.

In two short years he has made a fine local reputation for his artistry in wood, plastics, bronze and other metals.

Gilbert Amberg made his first trip to California in 1966. When he left Chicago the temperature was 20 below zero. In Carmel the temperature was a comfortable mid-sixty. Need there be any further discussion about moving to the Golden State?

During his visit Amberg discovered that Arch Garner and Gordon Newell were setting up the Sculpture Center on Cannery Row. This was similar to a project Mr. Amberg was associated with in Chicago for a number of years called the Contemporary Art Workshop.

Having made the decision to move his studio Amberg and his wife Jane closed up their Chicago apartment and moved to Carmel.

He shared studios with Gordon Newell on Cannery Row until the disastrous fire in October 1967 which burned down the Sculpture Center studio.

Since then he has shared space with Lenore Woolams at the Carmel Cultural Center.

Amberg retired as vice-president and treasurer of the Amberg File and Index Company in 1961 following a serious illness.

During his long and successful business career he was awarded three United States patents for various filing and office supply products developed by him as chief of product design for his company.

During his convalescence, Amberg set about training in sculpture — a field that previously had been an avocation.

He spent three years studying with Cosmo Campoli in Chicago in addition to other art studies at the North Shore Art League and the University of Chicago.

He is a member of the Sculpture Guild of Carmel and an instructor in wood carving at the Carmel Foundation.

He has exhibited widely in California including the Cabrillo Music Festival, the Sculpture Center in Monterey and the Monterey County Fair.

Recently he completed the two 4½ foot Thunderbird woodcarvings for the Thunderbird Bookshop in Carmel Valley. He is currently working on a portrait commissioned by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gault of Kankakee, Illinois, and two redwood signs for the Carmel Graphics Studios in the Carmel Cultural Center.

The Amberg's have three children and three grandchildren. His son Peter is the director of product development for the Lozier Corporation in Omaha, Nebraska.

Anthony is attending Graduate School at the University of Chicago where he is working for his PhD in English Literature.

His daughter Pamela is married to Michael Loewenstein, scenic designer for WTTW-TV, the Chicago educational TV station.

Carmel HS Music Groups Present Holiday Program

The Carmel High School music department, under the direction of Henry Avila, presents the "Sounds of Christmas," a concert of holiday music performed by the Girls' Glee, Chamber Orchestra, A Cappella Choir and the Concert Band.

The program starts at 8 p.m., Wednesday, Dec. 18 in the school gymnasium. Admission is free.

The Girls' Glee will sing LeRoy Anderson's "Sleigh Ride," then Elaine Bennet joins the group as a flute soloist as they perform "Who Is This in the Manger Sleeping?" Marnie Mark and Nickie Hariri will accompany the Glee.

The newly-formed Chamber Orchestra will present "A Carol Festival," "The Twelve Days of Christmas" and "Midnight Beguine."

The Choir will feature soprano Kitty Hendrix singing "I Have a Mother in the Heavens" and the Choir will sing compositions by Brahms, Palestrina and Burt.

The Concert Band will conclude the program with "Winter Wonderland," a "Jingle Bells Fantasy" and "Of Festive Bells and Ancient Kings."

Square Dance For Toys

The "HOT TIMERS," a group of Monterey Peninsula square dancers will sponsor a dance Saturday evening at the Marina recreation hall between 8:30 and 10:30 p.m.

The caller will be John Strong.

Entrance fee will be (two new toys) per couple.

These toys will be given to The Salvation Army Christmas Effort.

Daniel L. Carlin

Carmelite Honored

Daniel L. Carlin, manager of the Monterey office of American Savings and Loan Association of California, has been named November's "Manager of the Month" by George F. Collins, vice president and assistant managing officer.

Collins said that Carlin was being honored for outstanding performance in customer relations and branch operations during the past four-week period.

Carlin joined American Savings last year as an assistant branch manager and was promoted a short time later to manager of the Association's Monterey office.

Carlin and his wife, June, live in Carmel with their three daughters: twins, Patty and Vickie, 5; and Misty Ann, 6.

REPORTS FROM RLS

by Harry Nathan

Honor Role, Sports Dominate School Life

With the Christmas Holiday just around the corner, much excitement has taken place on the Stevenson campus. More than 108 parents received an early present as their sons made the honor roll.

The junior class had, the most students on the honor roll with 30.

David Haynes lead the list of juniors that includes Peter Haynes, Gary Novack, Jerry Dividian, Alan Yates, James Doyle, William Hague, Richard Li, Jeff Smith, Mark Power, William Smith, David DeZonia, Willis Cook, Bruce Burrell, Robert Galvin, Mark Kaminski and Hok-Yin Leung.

Edward Loescher, Antonio Perez, John Sharon, Lloyd Taylor, Timothy Donahoe, Chris Baumgart, Ken Maham, Michael Gianascol, Robert Tilghman, Timothy Anderson, Donald Hart, Clinton Kelly, and Michael Ehlrich.

The senior class placed 27 students on the honor role. They include Casey Charles, Lonnie Foy, Stephen Dart, Greg Wilson, Eric Haas, Raymond Cleary, Douglas Mennell, Ed Scott, George Winters and Mark Pomeroy. Other Seniors that made the honor role are Thomas Gardner, James Russell and Arthur Lara.

Keith Wilson, Bryan Hillstream, Mark Farber, Eric Paulsen, West Clark, Peter Funsten, John Kongsgaard, Dade Thieriot, Jeffrey Bennett, John Clancy, Gordon Bradley, and Flint Stickney.

Arlen Chase headed the list of sophomores who made the honor roll with a perfect average.

Some of the other 21 sophomores that made the honor roll include Andrew Fox, Thomas Daggett, Mike Barthelow, Jeff Kuhn, Mike Morel, John Wilson, Don Dormer, Pierre D'Avenas and Geoffrey Black.

Brad Kelly, Thomas Dillon, Barry Biggerstaff, Charles Winton, Rik Johnson, Stephen Biben, Chris Parker, Samuel Perkins, David Marihard, Scott Bayless, George Wing, James Dunn, and Robert Kelley.

The class of '72 was lead by George Gothmann, Robert Tarics, and Galen Greenwood.

Other Freshman that complete the 18 that made the honor roll include Rubio-Ortiz, Bruce Deane, Otis Moore, Richard Basham, Mick Lange, Steve Perelli-Minetti, Bob Spiegl, Mitchell Lea, Jason Gill, Paul Saffo, Cavin Philbin, Philip Coniglio, Leslie Jones, William Gerwick, and Frank Moffett.

Only seven eighth graders made the honor roll. They are Andre Wille, George Bucquet, Benjamin Gleichner, Jeffrey Finder, Johnny Fong, James Tayler, and Doug Keyston.

Foot of Mt. Shasta

Pianist Gilbert Boyer and flutist Ray Fabrizio gave a concert recently at the College of the Siskiyous, at the foot of Mt. Shasta.

Pirates Fourth In P.G. Cage Tourney

Not only have the students done well in the class room but also in the gym. The basketball team has a 2-2 record and looks like it could easily take the C.A.A. league championship.

In the recent Pacific Grove Invitation Basketball tournament the team took fourth place and placed one player on the all-tournament team.

In the first game of the tournament, the team overhauled Gonzalas high for a rousing 58-46 victory. In the second game, the Stevenson team lost a hard fought tussle to King City High, 58-48. The third game saw a tired Stevenson team lose to Hollister High, 56-30. Jeff Erlandson was named to the all-tournament honor.

BOOK REVIEW

THE ROSE AND THE ROBE; written and illustrated by Ettore De Grazia. Published by West-West Publications, Palm Desert, Calif., 1968. $11.75.

What is there about some artists that they will completely sacrifice their professional integrity just to shock the public?

This is a study of the travels and adventures of Fray Junipero Serra from 1769 to 1784.

The paintings are done with great splash and color in Ted De Grazia's fluid style, and with the painting, per se, there is no fault.

The writing, also by De Grazia, is simple and warm, easy to read and understand, and altogether, this book would have been a delight for children were it not for one painting and text of the 24 that make up the book.

I'm still not able to reconcile an Indian obeying the call of nature while talking to Fray Serra with the rest of the book, which deals with events in the Good Padre's life that are far more important.

Here is an otherwise beautiful book, both in prose and paint, completely ruined by the artist striving to shock his plebeian readers.

If I want to be shocked, I'll seek out that which shocks, but when I sit down in anticipation of reading of Junipero Serra, attempts to jar me out of my complacency become strictly anathema.

I believe there is a time and a place for everything, and an illustrated history of the founder of the California Missions is not the place for such earthy delineations.

Of course, you can easily take a razor blade and carefully slice out the offending page if indeed, it does offend you. The result is an utterly charming book about Fray Serra.

Mariano Cordoba.

Noted Guitarist Opens Local Studio

One of the world's most widely acclaimed Flamenco Guitarists, Mariano Cordoba has opened studios for instruction on the guitar in the ABC Music Store in Monterey.

Hailed as one of the great modern talents on the Spanish guitar, Cordoba began playing at 14, and later studied under the masters Rafael Nogales and Eudenio Gonzalez.

He toured throughout the world with the internationally renowned Antonio Ballet Company, known in the U.S. at the Antonio and Rosario Company.

His concerts, both here and abroad, have won critical acclaim for his mastery of the instrument, as well as his deep understanding of the music of the Spanish Flamenco form.

Cordoba's recording on the Columbia label of "Flamenco Virtuoso" has been the best seller in its field for several years.

The flamenco artist has been teaching in the San Francisco area, and now expands his instruction in the Spanish tradition to the Monterey Peninsula.

Organ at Mills College Dedicated To Church of Wayfarer Organist

Mrs. Connell (Connie) K. Carruth, organist at the Church of the Wayfarer in Carmel since 1952 and widely known in musical circles on the Monterey Peninsula, recently was honored by Mills College in Oakland when the pipe organ in the new college chapel was dedicated to her and her late husband, William Walter Carruth.

The dedication was in the form of a concert given Dec. 2.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Carruth served for many years as organists at the Mills College Chapel. She had entered Mills College as a music student in 1917 and her instructor in organ was the man who later was to become her husband.

During her first two years as organist for the Church of the Wayfarer she commuted to Carmel for services, establishing permanent residence in Carmel after the death of her husband.

Mrs. Carruth has been accompanist for many Bach festivals. Two years ago she was honored with a luncheon at La Playa Hotel in recognition of her 50 years as organist for various churches in northern California.

Singles Club Dance

The Monterey Bay Singles Club will hold its Christmas dance on Saturday night, Dec. 14. The setting for this pre-holiday festivity will be in the Don Room of the San Carlos Hotel at 9 p.m.

This gala affair will feature a Christmas buffet, and all club mmebers nad "alumni" are cordially invited to join in the evening's festivities.

Monterey Bay Singles is a social club for adults who are widowed, divorced or have never been married. Other activities include bowling, theater parties, house parties, campouts, etc.

Information on activities or membership can be obtained by calling 375-5693 or 372-6114.

Entries Due for Creative Arts League Show

Designer-craftsmen from five western states are reminded that entry forms and slides of their work are due Jan. 4 for California Crafts VI Pacific Dimensions, sixth biennial exhibition sponsored by the Creative Arts League. It will be on view Mar. 15 through Apr. 27 in the E. B. Crocker Art Gallery in Sacramento.

In consideration of entries from distant areas, all work will be juried first from slides. The jurors are to meet a second time, after selected work has been received, to determine awards. There will be $1000. available for cash prizes and purchases also will be made for the permanent collection of the Crocker Art Gallery. An entry fee of $4.00, covering a total of from one to four works from each craftsman, is to be used for awards and an illustrated catalog to be distributed to major galleries and art centers.

Originally statewide in scope, varying from juried to invitational in its presentation of outstanding objects designed for contemporary living, this nationally recognized exhibition has been expanded this year to include the work of residents of Alaska, California, Hawaii, Oregon and Washington.

Entry forms may be obtained from the CCVI Exhibition chairman, Dora Hunter, Crocker Art Gallery, 216 O Street, Sacramento, Calif. 95814.

Mrs. Mary Lou Morse

Morse Opens New Carmel Gallery

A new addition to the realm of Carmel fine arts has come into being. Mrs. Mary Lou Morse, who is introducing a new approach to enamels, recently opened "The Balcony Studio Gallery" in "The Mall" on San Carlos between 5th and 6th.

Mrs. Morse is also introducing sculpture by Betty Davenport Ford, whose work is known throughout the country.

According to Mrs. Morse, Betty Ford offers a special approach to animals and nature through her sculpture.

Mrs. Morse's approaches her enamel work by creating art murals and paintings with segmented enamel parts rather than making them completely solid. The spaces left between the parts of the figures allows for a more airy effect and makes the figures appear more lifelike.

Mrs. Morse entered the field of enamels quite by accident.

She decided to take a class in rock-polishing since her son had recently taken it up as a hobby.

She couldn't get into the rock-polishing class but there was a class open in enamels. She became fascinated with the color opportunity and has been working with enamels professionally for the past 11 years.

COLORFUL BREED — The Iceland sheep has long wool and is a colorful, hardy and frugal-feeding breed.

UNDYED SWEATER — Thomas Holton, who is promoting the Icelandic home industry of sweater weaving.

Icelandic Sweaters Are Product of Booming Fireside Home Industry

A former Pacific Grove resident has taken a purely home-spun industry in Iceland and turned it into a source of income for native families.

Thomas Holton, was fascinated by Iceland — its fierce spirit of independence, industry and pride, and enamored of one of its most beautiful products — his wife.

One of the primary occupations during Iceland's long, cold winters is the knitting of socks in front of the blazing fire. As a relief from toes and heels, the Icelandic women knit warm, woolly sweaters for their men and themselves.

Iceland's sheep have long, silky wool, much like that of Angora, and come in such a variety of colors that it is never necessary to dye the yarn before it is knitted.

All the colors are natural wool.

And to top it off, the Icelandic sheep's wool contains so much lanolin that sweaters knitted from their wool is practically waterproof.

As a result of Tom Holton's interest in promoting this Icelandic home industry, John Grissim's sweater shop at the Pine Inn Court in Carmel, now has a complete line of attractive, superwarm sweaters in stock.

'Concerto Carmel' At Sunset Center

Sunset Auditorium will house two benefit concerts on Dec. 28 and 29.

Presented by Hidden Valley Music Seminars, the programs of choral and orchestral music will feature artists Stanley Plummer violin, Thomas Paul bass, Marie Gibson soprano, and the four guitars of the Romero family.

During the past summer, fifty-one outstanding high school students attended the seminars, and many of these talented young musicians will reutrn to take part in the concerts.

Tickets are obtainable from Hiden Valley, P.O. Box 942, Pebble Beach, and from Central Box Office, on 5th and Mission in Carmel, phone 624-6739.

Traveling Zantman's Enlivening Exhibits for their Gallery

by LOUISE COOK

Mr. and Mrs. Hans Zantman Art Galleries, have just returned from a fruitful trip to Europe. They are bubbling with enthusiasm over the new acquisitions soon to arrive.

Bernard Buffet, known internationally and the orginator of linear painting, will be featured next year with an exhibit of his lithographs.

There will be more of Jacques Voyet's unique canvasses in another one-man-show later.

Guy Cambier is sending his latest artistic achievements. Cambier paints in the mood of the Renaissance but uses heavier pigment and more opulant color. He has created a wistful melancholy in the beautiful nude above.

This artist is not only a successful painter but is an accomplished musician and composer as well.

He is to be greatly admired since he has not allowed a major physical handicap to interfere with expressing his impressive talents.

Dorothea Ridenour, a new exhibitor, has developed an unusual technique of batik on silk. Her delicately done flowers show imagination as well as technical skill.

The strongly realistic paintings of Robert Clark give substance to the Zantman collection.

It is always very pleasant to step into the Zantman Galleries and chat with their knowledgeable curator Arthur Porter.

Carmel Foundation

A special program has been arranged for by Mr. John Farr, Music Director, for members of The Carmel Foundation on Wednesday, Dec. 18 at 11:30 a.m.

The members will be taken to Tularcitos School and after lunch a program of music will be presented.

Glasser Memorial Fund Growing

A total of $480 in contributions to the Rose Mary Glasser Memorial Fund has been received at Monterey Peninsula College, according to Dr. Jack Bessire, MPC dean of student personnel.

The fund, "to be used at the discretion of Monterey Peninsula College for financial assistance to students," was established by a group of citizens Nov. 20 to honor the memory of the late Mrs. Martin Glasser of Monterey, who was "get-out-the-vote" chairman in numerous school and college bond campaigns.

Persons wishing to contribute may send checks or money orders, made payable to the college and earmarked for the Rose Mary Glasser Memorial Fund, to Dr. Bessire at MPC.

Each donor will be thanked by mail; the Glasser family will be sent a running list of donations; and progress reprots will be issued as the fund grows.

Schwabacher, Norma Hodges To Sing Haydn's 'Creation' At Carmel Mission

Joseph Haydn's celebrated oratorio "The Creation" brings James Schwabacher to Carmel for the performances at Carmel Mission Basilica Dec. 14 and 15, at 8 p.m.

Schwabacher is well known to local audiences for his appearances with the Bach Festival during 15 successive seasons.

Norma Jean Hodges, one of Carmel's own residents and a graduate of Northwestern University School of Music, sings the soprano roles of Gabriel and Eve.

Mrs. Hodges has appeared with the Bach Festival, Monterey County Symphony and the 1967 performance of the "Messiah" presented by Monterey Peninsula Choral Society at the Navy School.

Bass soloist James Tippey performed with the Choral Society in Beethoven's Ninth Symphony at the Monterey County Symphony's 1967 May concert.

[illegible] career has included appearances in the Carmel and Ojai music festivals, New York City Ballet, Los Angeles Philharmonic, featured soloist with Roger Wagner Chorale, and in 1963, a command performance at the White House at the invitation of President and Mrs. John F. Kennedy.

Haymo Taeuber conducts the Monterey Peninsula Choral Society and the 30 piece Monterey County Symphony Chamber Orchestra in the two performances of "The Creation."

There is no charge for admission and no offering will be taken but contributions to help defray expenses are solicited and may be mailed to Monterey Peninsula Choral Society, Box 272, Carmel.

Soprano Norma Jean Hodges

Tenor James Schwabacher

Carmel High Scene

This week the American Field Service has been selling 5c lollipops to the students of Carmel High. The sale of the lollipops will be for as long as the students care to buy them. All profits made will go to having a foreign exchange student come to Carmel for the school year 1969-1970.

. . . Athena Shudde has received the Daughters of the Revolution award by the seniors and faculty. This yearly award is presented by the D.A.R.

. . . The Student Council is thinking of having a dance with computorized dates. All students would fill out a form about their personality.

. . . The first musical of this school year is having its try-outs next Wednesday. All students are free to audition. The musical will be "Oklahoma," with Mr. Avila and Miss Hardy as the directors.

. . . Basketball, Friday, Dec. 13. Carmel plays Palma at Carmel Gym. Varsity game starts at 8 p.m.

NEW MANAGER — John G. Oldfin has been named manager of the Crocker-Citizens National Bank branch office in Pebble Beach. He comes to the Carmel area from Santa Rosa, where he has been serving in the same capacity. A member of the Crocker - Citizens organization since 1960, Oldfin and his wife Beverly will reside at 136 Carmel Knolls.

WHO'S NEW

Two sisters, Geraldine and Virginia Eggers, recently ended interesting careers in Chicago to make a new home in Carmel.

Frequent visitors here for the past 15 years, they have been Pine Cone subscribers for five years. It was through the newspaper's real estate advertisements that they bought their new home on Mission and 13th.

Geraldine was program director and secretary for the First Presbyterian Church of Chicago, first of its denomination there and founded when the area was still Fort Dearborn.

Virginia was a cytologist for Northwestern University's Medical School.

AA Potent Force In Rehabilitation

Alcoholics are sick people. But they can be helped by other alcoholics who have achieved sobriety and who gladly share it.

More than one-half million men and women follow the Alcoholics Anonymous recovery program — some just starting; others who have not had a drink for from 5 to 25 or more years. There are more than 13,000 local groups in the United States, Canada and in more than 90 other countries.

AA's offer their help freely to anyone who sincerely wants to stop drinking. AA is not a religious movement, nor is it affiliated with any other organization or agency. The fellowship is entirely self supporting and does not accept outside contributions. Its only purpose is to help alcoholics.

The local Alcoholics Anonymous central office is located at 572 Lighthouse Avenue, Pacific Grove. Hours are from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays—the office telephone number is 373-3713.

AA maintains a 24-hour answering service where an AA member can be reached at any time of day or night by calling 373-1611.

OBITUARY

John Jewett Garland, 66, of Pebble Beach and Los Angeles, died recently. He was a long time member of the International Olympic Committee and helped bring the 1960 winter Olympics to Squaw Valley. He and his wife, the former Helen Chandler, have a summer home in Pebble Beach, built by his father, the late William May Garland, in 1917. He was a member and former director of the Cypress Point Club. He is survived also by a daughter, Mrs. Guilford Babcock of San Marino, and a son, William May Garland II of Los Angeles.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE RADIO PROGRAM

This Sunday in the Christian Science radio series "The Bible Speaks to You," a program called "Preparing for Christmas" will be presented. It can be heard over stations KGO at 7:15, KRML at 7:45 and KDON at 8:45. This program depicts the quiet peace around the Christmas manger and shows how today we can have a more meaningful Christmas.

CCMP Annual Tea

A delightful Christmas program is in store for the members of the Women's Association of the Community Church of the Monterey Peninsula when they meet on Tuesday, Dec. 17, for their annual Christmas tea.

The meeting is set for 2 p.m.

Christmas music will be presented by the Tularcitos Elementary School choir, under the direction of John Farr, with 5th, 6th and 7th grade students participating.

Featured also will be a string ensemble, woodwind and brass ensembles. To add to the occasion, Mrs. Elmer Breckenfeld will read "A Child's Christmas in Wales," by Dylan Thomas.

Tea, coffee and Christmas cookies will be served and all members and friends of the church are invited to attend.

An Ad in the Pine Cone Is a Better Value

Christian Science Bible Lesson

"For he shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways." This verse from the 91st Psalm will be part of the Scriptural selections in this week's Bible Lesson-Sermon to be read in all Christian Science churches this week. The lesson is titled "God the Preserver of Man."

Related passages to be read from the denominational textbook include the following: "Whatever is governed by God, is never for an instant deprived of the light and might of intelligence and life." The textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" was written by the discoverer and founder of Christian Science, Mary Baker Eddy.

Big Sur Couple Give Annual Donation

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Jaeger of Big Sur have brought their annual jar full of money to Community Hospital.

This year it is a gift of $190.

The money is a contribution by visitors to the garden of the Loma Vista Inn owned by the Jaegers.

Their gifts to the hospital since 1958 now total more than $1,445.

In thanking the Jaegers, Thomas E. Tonkin, administrator of the hospital, said: "Your garden, while giving pleasure to visitors, has made a significant contribution to the hospital over the years, and we gratefully acknowledge this donation to the new expansion program.

Opera Broadcast

Giuseppe Verdi's dramatic three-act opera, "Simon Boccanegra" will be performed over the Texaco-Metropolitan Opera radio network on Saturday, Dec. 14, starting at 11 a.m. over Santa Cruz Stations KSCO, 1080 kc and KSCO-FM at 99.1 mc.

Singing principal roles will be soprano Gabriella Tucci as Amelia, tenor George Shirley as Gabriele Adorno, baritone Cornell MacNeil as Simon Boccanegra, the Doge of Genoa, bass Jerome Hines in the role of Fiesco, and baritone Sherrill Milnes as Paolo.

Francesco Molinari-Pradelli will conduct.

During the first intermission after the prologue, the noted musicologist and lecturer on opera, Boris Goldovsky, will bring the radio audience a dramatic and musical analysis of "Simon Boccanegra."

Masters Concert

The following major works will be featured on the Masters Concert during the week of December 12 over FM station K-WAVE Stereo at 96.9 mc at 8 p.m.

Thurs., Dec. 12—Mozart, Sinfonia Concertante K. 364; Stravinsky, Firebird Suite.

Fri., Dec. 13—Schumann, Violin Concerto; Beethoven, Symphony No. 3 (Eroica).

Mon., Dec. 16—Mozart, Piano Concerto No. 19 K. 459; Sibelius, Symphony No. 1.

Tues., Dec. 17—Brahms, Piano Trio in A Minor; Khachaturian, Violin Concerto.

Wed., Dec. 18 — Mozart, Quartet in F, K. 590; Prokofiev, Symphony No. 5.

SCRAMP Christmas Party for Kids Comes To Fairgrounds Dec. 23

Third Annual SCRAMP Christmas party for needy children will be held at 2 p.m., Monday, Dec. 23 at the Fairgrounds Exhibition Hall.

Frank Adams, SCRAMP director, is chairman of the party.

With the Salvation Army coordinating the attendance, more than 800 kids are on the invitation list. About 3[illegible] families are involved.

In typical SCRAMP fashion, a large segment of the Monterey Peninsula is involved in putting the party together.

The Jaycees will perform as Santa's Helpers, replete in animal and clown costumes.

Wrapping the 800-plus presents is a job cheerfully undertaken by the Jayceeettes.

Volunteers from the Monterey Recreation Department will man the doors and serve as crowd control.

Mrs. Carl Cabral has put together a volunteer show for the entertainment portion of the program.

And . . . last but far from least, the Marines, with their Toys for Tots program, will provide presents for the youngsters.

Christmas Reflected

When sun is a late persimmon
Dyeing December snow
And sky is a rainbow river
Flooding the peaks below;

When air is a drowzy whisper
Wishing the slopes goodnight
And soil is a quilted sleeper
Dreaming of spring delight;

Then life is a foothill window
Framing the Christmas cheer
Where children and parents gather
Close with their near and dear,

Where happiness is a beacon
Reaching out through the chill
To welcome the neighbor nearing
And mirror his own goodwill.

—Helen Faulkner

Young Hippies

Storm bedraggled Angels look with disillusioned eye
Upon their wonder-world as lost,
and sob beneath the sky.
They grope in scattered segments and try to understand
The well-remembered symbols across an alien land.
And scorn the up-tight ladder
with rungs of rubber bands
To write on windy beaches sarcastic comments in the sands.

Yuletide Theft of Cars and Packages To Hit Record Pace

Yuletide thieves will be stealing autos and Christmas packages at a record clip as the holiday season reaches its shopping peak, the National Automobile Theft Bureau has predicted.

In California nearly 10,000 automobiles worth more than $10 millions will be taken from their owners during December, said Gene Halm, Pacific Coast Division manager of the NATB. He based his figures on the 1967 totals for December adjusted by the crime rate increase experienced so far in 1968.

Another 13,500 Californians will find packages and other items missing from their parked cars. This will cost another $310,000.

The projected losses suggest a gloomy holiday for about 23,000 people. Many of them could protect their cars and parcels by taking a few simple measures suggested by metropolitan police chiefs.

—The first, and most obvious precaution: Lock your car and take your keys. About one out of three stolen cars would not have been taken if the owner had followed that procedure.

—Keep all packages and valuables out of sight, preferably in the trunk. A professional "booster"—car burglar—can open most locked car doors in less than 20 seconds. Valuable items left on car seats are often too tempting to ignore.

—Park the care where it may easily be seen.

Besides the measurable loss of property caused by thefts, there is another pressing reason to protect cars from theft.

About half of the car thieves arrested are juveniles. Many of them made car theft their first serious crime.

Europe discovered the art of crystallizing sugar in the fourth century.

Oliver's Art Store Sold to Bickfords

Oliver's Art Store on Alvarado in Monterey which was established in 1896 by the late W. K. Oliver, father of the well-known artist Myron Oliver, has been sold to Mr. and Mrs. Curt Bickford of Palo Alto who will live in Carmel.

The original Oliver came to the Peninsula in 1893 to be art instructor in a branch of the College of the Pacific which held classes in the basement of the First Methodist Church of Monterey.

He opened his shop in 1896 and started the Peninsula's first gallery there in 1902.

Following his death in 1922, his son Myron who had studied art in New York and abroad took over the management until his own death in 1967.

Mrs. Oliver continued its management until its recent sale. Their son, Ramon, will reestablish in New Monterey the custom frame shop which became famous for its craftsmanship.

Paintings by Myron Oliver are hanging in the Carmel Museum of Art on Dolores Street which is devoted to early painters of the Peninsula.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Margaret Rose Garcia, 71, the mother of artist Danny Garcia, and a Peninsula resident for 45 years, died recently. She was a native of Hayward. She is survived also by a son, Alvin W. Garcia of Berkeley, and nine grandchildren.

Mrs. Ann Kennedy White, 86, who made her home with her son Arthur White of Scenic Drive and Ocean for the past few years, died recently. Native of Ohio, she had lived in Sacramento and Berkeley.

We may live without poetry, music and art;
We may live without conscience and live without heart;
We may live without friends; we may live without books;
But civilized man can not live without cooks.
He may live without books,
what is knowledge but grieving?
He may live without hope, what is hope but deceiving?
He may live without love, what is passion but pining?
But where is the man that can live without dining?

PARTY PLANS . . .

by Phyllis Jervey

"Prepare for Christmas"

No doubt the real problem about Christmas cookies is keeping the cookie jar filled. This is the time of year when children love to help in the kitchen. Small wonder with all the delicious aromas and exciting combinations that are so yummy to eat.

The best cooks begin early in childhood by watching their mothers. Make cooking fun by starting the youngsters creating some easy, yet tempting, cookies. Nowadays it's so simple to use packaged mixes which have a true homemade flavor. The experience should be rewarding not just another assignment.

Art of Sharing

This is also a good way to teach the art of sharing. With the Christmas spirit as a guide, children should divide cookies and gingerbread: half to give away and half to enjoy themselves.

With a certain amount of unobtrusive supervision, the very young will find all this cooking venture a very pleasant one.

We'll start with mini fruitcakes which must have expert assistance. These small size fruitcakes make ideal personal gifts when decorated and wrapped in colored celophane or plastic bags and tied with a gay bow.

Mini Fruitcake

One pkg. Applesauce Batter Cake Mix (9¼ oz., one layer size); 1½ cups chopped pecans or walnuts in cellophane envelopes; 1 cup candied fruit mix; ¾ cup dates, chopped; ½ cup candied cherries; ¾ cup raisins; ½ t. cinnamon; ¼ t. each nutmeg and ground allspice and cloves; 2 T. firmly packed brown sugar; 3 eggs. Use a 9-inch mini bundt cake or one 9x5-inch loaf cake pan.

In large mixing bowl, combine ½ cup dry cake mix with nuts, candied fruit mix, dates, cherries, raisins. Set aside. In large mixer bowl, blend remaining dry cake mix, spices, brown sugar and eggs at low speed for 1 minute. Beat at medium speed for 2 minutes. Stir in fruits and nuts until well combined.

Bake in generously buttered and lightly floured mini bundt (9-cup capacity) for 1 hour to 1 hour and 15 minutes at 325° F.

A new idea is to use empty sterilized soup cans for the above fruitcake recipe. Use the 5 to 6 10-oz. soup cans. Fill generously buttered and lightly floured cans ¾ full. Bake at 325° F. for 50 minutes or 1 hour and 5 minutes.

Decorate with almonds, candied pineapple, red and green chrries. Store in bottom part of refrigerator until ready to use. Wrap in foil to keep moist.

Surpise Packages

One (14-oz.) pkg. gingerbread mix; 1 cup water; 1½ cups milk; 1 (3⅝-oz.) pkg. vanilla pudding and pie filling mix; 1½ T. grated orange rind; 2 egg whites; 1½ cups granulated sugar; 1/3 cup orange juice; 2 T. water; 1 T. light corn syrup; ½ t. salt; 1 t. grated orange rind; few drops red food coloring; silver dragees. Makes 10 (4½x2-inch) packages.

Prepare gingerbread mix according to directions on package. Pour into buttered and floured 9-inch square pan. Bake in preheated 350° F. oven 45 minutes or until center springs back when lightly touched with fingertips.

Cool. Add milk to pudding mix. Cook over low heat until thick. Stir in orange rind. Cool. Slice cake into 3 layers. Spread 2 layers with cooled filling. Stack. Cut into 10 bars.

Combine egg whites with next 5 items in top of double boiler. Beat 1 minute. Place over boiling water and beat until mixture forms peaks. Remove from boiling water. Add orange rind.

Continue beating until thick enough to spread. Reserve 1¼ cups frosting. Frost bars with remaining frosting. Add food color to reserved frosting by using a pastry tube or spatula; decorate with ribbon bows. Decorate bows with silver dragees. Very ornamental and "chi-chi" looking for teens.

No-Bake Cookies

One pkg. semisweet chocolate pieces (1 cup); ¼ cup corn syrup; 1¾ cups bite-size shredded wheat or rice biscuits; shredded coconut. Makes 2 dozen.

In 2-qt. double boiler, melt chocolate with syrup; blend well. Remove from heat, keeping chocolate mixture over hot water. Gently mix in shredded wheat or rice until well coated. Drop by heaping teaspoonfuls onto waxed paper. Sprinkle with shredded coconut. This is the children's favorite, that is, to make. It's such a cinch. Good to eat too.

Cookie Tree

Decorate vanilla wafers, cream sandwich cookies, fig bars and sugar wafers with decorator frosting and silver dragees. Secure small tree branches in upright position in bright clean flower pot using metal frog or large piece of modeling clay.

String cookies with white thread and hang on "tree."

Or these same cookies are to be hung on live Christmas tree the night before Christmas.

More about a "tree-trimming party" in next week's Party Plans.

While the youngsters are "working," supply them with fine fruit toastettes toaster-pastries a la mode to keep them from eating up all their own productions. These come in packages and different flavors. Prepare them according to package directions; or heat until very warm in pre-heated hot oven (450° F.). Top each with a spoonful of ice cream.

Indeed packaged cookie mixes are super; the finest ingredients go to make them. Packaged gingerbread mixes also carry label directions for making luscious ginger cookies and those gingerbread men and houses children of all ages so admire.

Here's something else for a sweet tooth:

Christmas Popcorn Balls

In very large bowl, mix 3 qts. popcorn, ½ lb. cut-up candied cherries. In 2-qt. saucepan, combine 2 cups white corn syrup, 1 T. cider (mild) vinegar, 1 t. salt; cook, stirring often, to 250° F. on candy thermometer, or until a little of the mixture in cold water forms hard ball.

Add 2 t. vanilla extract. Slowly pour over popcorn, toss until coated. Quickly and gently shape into 3-inch balls. Makes about 15. Wrap in colored foil for mini gifts.

Dada and Surrealism

A series of slides covering the early Dada and Surrealism periods ushering in contemporary art was shown and narrated by Col. Robert Robertson at the December meeting of the American Association of University Women held at the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art.

Runyon's 'Guys and Dolls' Opens Dec. 20 for Weekends at Studio

For the holiday season just ahead the Studio Theatre & Restaurant in Carmel offers the perennial favorite "Guys And Dolls" opening Dec. 20.

Based on a classic story and characters by Damon Runyon and transferred to the stage by Joe Swerling and Abe Burrows to a memorable Frank Loesser score, "Guys And Dolls" ran 1200 performances on Broadway to land among the top 10 musicales of all time.

In the lively plot, Miss Sarah Brown is in charge of the Save-A-Soul Mission off Times Square.

Her street corner meetings are the object of some derision by the disreputable element of the area.

In fact, Nathan Detroit makes her the pawn in a sure-thing wager with big-time gambler Sky Masterson who is trapped into betting $1000 that he can entice Sarah into joining him on a trip to pre-Castro Havana.

The outcome of this wager is a surprise to all concerned.

Aside from needing the $1000 to promote a floating crap game for such colorful figures as Big Jule, Harry the Horse, Angie the Ox, Nicely-Nicely Johnson, Rusty Charlie and Benny Southstreet, Nathan has another problem of avoiding matrimony with his fiancee of fourteen years standing, Miss Adelaide, a somewhat tarnished chanteuse whose "Lament" is a highlight of the first act.

From the opening "Fugue For Tinhorns" to the rousing "Sit Down You're Rockin' The Boat," the show is a kaleidoscope of Damon Runyon's picturesque interpretation of the Broadway scene and its enduring popularity reflects its widespread appeal.

"Guys And Dolls" will run Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights through January as well as the entire week between Christmas and New Year's Eve. The production is under the direction of Dave Kirk with settings and lighting by Bob Evans Jr., and costumes by Judy Evans.

Reservations for dinner and show or show alone may be made at 624-1661 or 624-2321.

All Saints' Soccer Victors

Spunk and followthrough were the hallmark of the All Saints' Episcopal Day School soccer team as they edged Carmel Middle School's sixth graders 1 to 0.

Both teams, spirited and expertly coached, played a fast breaking game which remained scoreless until the fourth quarter when Tommy Hill of All Saints' booted the winning score on the green of the Middle School field.

The nippy autumn afternoon was made for the annual soccer clash between the Carmel Valley schools. The exciting contest was played Thursday, complete with referees, timekeeper and rooters made up of local families.

At the end of the match the boys were all victors; they played the game well in spirit of Grantland Rice.

Carmel Potters Sale

Pottery and ceramics craftsmen of Carmel will hold their annual Christmas pottery sale from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Wells Fargo Bank parking lot.

Some artists and other craftsmen may join the potters in the sale, but the emphasis will be on locally produced pottery and ceramics.

Movie Review

Gone With the Wind — Returning to Monterey is this classic American motion picture. It seems unnecessary to state that it is set in the South during and after the Civil War, and that the stars are Clark Gable Vivien Leigh, Leslie Howard and Olivia deHavilland.

2001: A Space Odyssey — Far reaches of space explored in this splendid, highly imaginative science-fiction production. Keir Dullea, Gary Lockwood. Wonderful entertainment.

Coogan's Bluff — Arizona sheriff Clint Eastwood goes to New York to bring back a murder suspect, meets LSD and other adventures before he returns to the clean-aired West.

Barbarella — Jane Fonda in the year 40,000. Ray guns, love making, strange perils. From a French comic strip of the same name.

Here We Go 'Round the Mulberry Bush — Teenager Barry Evans has a thing going for girls, but seems to get nowhere except around the mulberry bush. All turns out OK when he meets Diane Keen, with whom he seems to communicate.

Blow-Up — The London scene and a big beat directed by Michelangelo Antonioni. Great color, up-tight story, and Vanessa Redgrave as a photographer's model.

Hammerhead — Vince Edwards as an undercover agent, assigned by the British to thwart a sadistic villain's attempts to steal vital missile information.

Doctor Dolittle—Rex Harrison is Hugh Lofting's delightful little doctor who learns to converse with the animals. Amusing comedy, delightful score, all-around great picture.

For Love of Ivy—Sidney Poitier in a sensitive, warm romance about two Negroes in love. Poitier plays a trucking company owner with some shady side activities.

High Commissioner—A satisfying tale of international intrigue and skulduggery. Christopher Plummer with an impossible assignment, which, of course, he accomplishes.

Theatre Guide

Star Spangled Girl—Last chance to see this riotously funny production about two left-leaning characters and a true-blue patriotic girl. Last two performances on Friday and Saturday, none Sunday. "Guys and Dolls" next.

The Lion in Winter—Curtain coming down on this comedy-drama of regal intrigue in the 12th century. Run ends next weekend to make way for "Smell of Greasepaint, Roar of the Crowd."

Joy DeCamp, Conservation Leader, Dies

Miss Joy De Camp, who was a co-founder with her brother, Col. C. A. De Camp, of the 100 acre Declaration of Independence Redwood Memorial Grove in the Prairie Creek State Park in Humboldt County, died Dec. 7 after a long illness.

Miss De Camp was 82, a native of New Jersey. She came with her mother and Col. DeCamp of Carmel, to San Francisco in 1906 having graduated from the Boston Conservatory of Music, after which she studied abroad.

Her proficiency in languages took her into Army Service in World War I, after which she transferred to the Peace Commission staff and lived in Paris and New York.

She joined her brother's family in Carmel in 1959 and quickly became a civic leader in M.P.V.S., Carmel Foundation, Women's Republican Club, Monterey History and Art Assn., Red Cross, Gray Lady service at Fort Ord, and her greatest interest, the Audubon Society of which she was an officer.

Miss De Camp is survived by her brother and some dozen cousins and many devoted friends throughout the world.

Memorial contributions to the Community Hospital Building Fund may be made in her name.

Foreign Policy, Nigeria Are Topics Of World Affairs Council Meeting

Nigeria and its present problems and the foreign policy headaches facing the Nixon administration when it takes office occupied the monthly meeting of the World Affairs Council held at the Thunderbird Bookstore in Carmel Valley last week.

First speaker of the evening was Carl Pohlhammer, staff lecturer in political science at Monterey Peninsula College, who discussed "The Dimensions of the Civil War in Nigeria."

Pohlhammer asserted that those who predict that Black Africa is doomed to instability are completely out of line, and that just the opposite is true.

He singled out Nigeria as one of the exceptions, and a microcosm of African problems.

"Nigeria has the potential of being one of the most successful of all the African states," Pohlhammer said, "but the polarization of Nigeria along tribal lines has had disastrous results. The attempt by the dominent Ibo tribe to create an independent Biafia is an example."

But Pohlhammer predicted the evoluation of a Nigeria similar to the Congo.

The second speaker was Professor Robert Von Pagenhardt, a member of the staff of the Naval Postgraduate School, who provided a thoughtful analysis of "Foreign Policy Precepts for the New Administration."

He outlined the critical problems facing the new administration, primarily in the necessity to deter armed conflict, the assurance of reasonable opportunities to all citizens and the organization of our society to create a sense of mutual confidence and cooperation for common purposes.

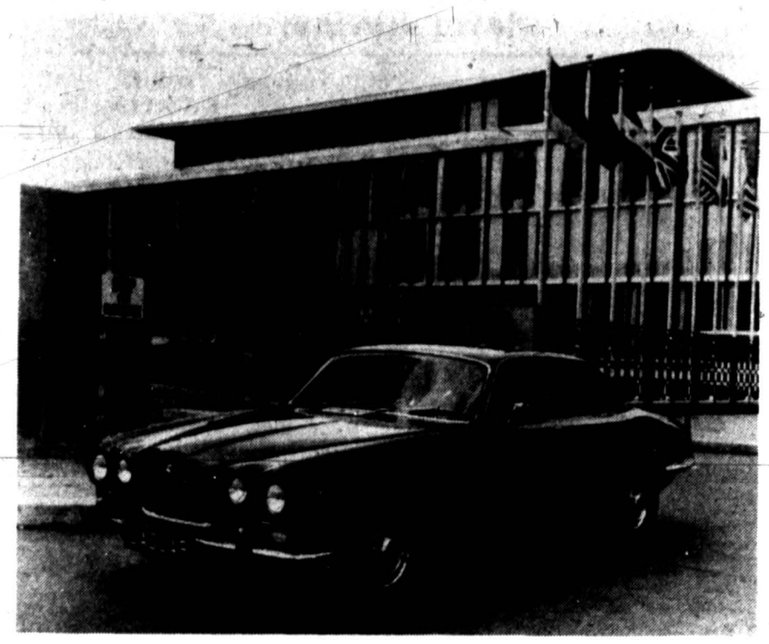
He felt that the Nixon administration would undoubtedly seek a better management of national security affairs, attempting to formulate principles and apply them to operational situations.

Council programs for the coming months include Professor Claude Buss of Stanford University on U. S. Policy in Southeast Asia, Jan. 17, and Professor George Lenczowski, University of California on Feb. 7, who will discuss the Middle East and its crisis.

GARDEN CLUB MEETS

The Monterey Peninsula Garden Club will have a Christmas Pot Luck Dinner at the Community Center, Junipero Street, Pacific Grove on Thursday, December 19 at 6:30 p.m.—members are to bring salad or dessert.

After the party the new officers will be installed by Mrs. Norman Walker, past President. The new officers are: Mrs. N. P. Bryant, president; Mrs. Blanche Mack, 1st vice-president; Mrs. Ruth Ridenour, 2nd vice-president; Mrs. Enid Ganster, recording secretary; Miss Helen Young, corresponding secretary and Col. George Baxter, treasurer.



FIRST SHOWING—The Jaguar XJ Luxury Sedan, an all new, medium-size, high performance, high quality automobile, longer, lower and wider than its immediate predecessor sedan, the Jaguar 420, was shown for the first time in the area at the 11th Annual Northern California Imported Car Show in San Francisco. Outstanding new features include specially designed heating and ventilation combined with air conditioning, electric windows, "anti-dive" front suspension, rack and pinion power assisted steering, all as regular equipment for the American market, and an optional, electrically heated rear window. New 1969 body colors include Regency Red and Silver Gray. Other Jaguar cars being shown for the first time are the new, 1969 Series 2 sports cars, in roadster, coupe and 2+2 coupe versions. British Motors in Monterey has complete details on the new Jag.

Job Opportunities and Training Occupy League of Women Voters Panel

An overview of employment problems on the Monterey Peninsula was given by a panel of qualified men in the community before the monthly League of Women Voters luncheon at the Community Center in Pacific Grove. Mrs. Richard Eldred served as moderator. There is a persistent average unemployment figure of 8%, but among Negroes this is 26%, it was disclosed.

James McMahon, president of the newly formed Management Council, composed of volunteer leaders in industry and trade, described the successes its organization had had in persuading employers to "hire on the basis of qualifications only."

Charles Mulkey, Dean of Vocational Education at Monterey Peninsula College, described the many vocational courses at MPC such as landscape and horticultural design, data processing, electronics dental and medical assistants, etc.

He quoted the Arthur Little study which disclosed that of every 100 children who enter school at 5th grade, 15 will not complete school and 61 will be unprepared for employment.

James Pullen, state Department of Employment manager of Monterey office, emphasized the need for education and job training and pinpointed the problem of transportation to Salinas industry.

Lee Toler, director of Job Opportunities Center of Seaside, criticized irrelevant elementary education. Kids get turned off because school is not "project oriented" toward things they are interested in such as autos or babies. Jobs are necessary now or there will be violence or crime, he said.

Morris Showel, (p.pres.) of local NAACP described surveys of apprentice programs. There are no Negroes among the few apprentices of the carpenters, plumbing or electrician unions. There are few Negroes in the vocational training classes at the college, he said.

Richard Bragg, MCID, coordinator for the Task Force for Action of Monterey County, said that the biggest problem is people: their attitudes and awareness. Although they had found jobs, 40 of them at the county courthouse, they had failed to place one black person.

"This doesn't make human sense," he said. "If people are not trained, let's train 'em; if they are not qualified, let's qualify 'em.

The need for day care centers for children of women on welfare so that they can be trained for work was cited by Jane Van Hook. The Rev. H.H. Lusk is opening his church for such a center, she said, but it must be funded.

So a reader wrote the PINE CONE on renewing her subscription that had lapsed briefly.

"I've been a reader for 30 years," she explained. "When I moved away, I missed it. Happy to receive the first copy of my new subscription."

Community Theater Plans Membership Drive, Elects New Officers

Plans for expanded membership of the Community Theater of the Monterey Peninsula were made at the annual meeting Monday evening held at the Circle Theater at which new officers were elected.

Re-elected were Richard Bragg of Carmel, president; Mrs. Church (Gertrude) Chappell of Pebble Beach, first vice-president; Mrs. R. Bruce Fergusson of Carmel, secretary; and Mrs. Allan Weinfield of Carmel Knolls, treasurer.

Mrs. Florence Larsen of Pebble Beach and Roy Baxter of Carmel were elected second and third vice-presidents. Mr. Baxter is a star and co-director of the recent hit, closing this week, of "Lion in the Sun".

Sidney Frohman, local film producer, Theodore Viehman and Mrs. William Shanner, newly elected board members, were introduced.

The opening of "Smell of the Greasepaint, Roar of the Crowd," a recent Broadway musical, will open Dec. 28, Bragg announced. Mrs. Allan Weinfield, known for her Ft. Ord productions, will direct.

President Bragg reported that the current production was drawing large numbers of history and stage techniques students from Monterey Peninsula College, Carmel and Salinas high schools who are taking advantage of student memberships.

Auditions for Community Theater productions are open to all. The directorial staff includes Charles Thomas, producer director; Michael Keller and Ray Baxter.

Mrs. Marcia Hovick, founder and director of the Children's Theater sponsored by Community Theater announced that their four casts are rehearsing a Scottish legendary play, "The Two Brothers."

More than 100 boys and girls of 5th to 12th grades are enrolled in this school which is touring the Peninsula.

UNICEF CARD—"The King," designed by the Czechoslovakian artist Jiri Trnka, is one of the series of Christmas greeting cards now on sale to benefit the UNICEF Children's Fund. The cards are sold 10 to a box with envelopes, and proceeds help children around the world. Trnka is internationally known for his delightful puppet films, and his carved puppets was the main drawing attraction in the Czech Pavillion at Expo 67 in Montreal. Cards are on sale locally at the Thunderbird Bookshops in Carmel Valley and Pebble Beach, and at Chez Melange, 314 Forest Ave., Pacific Grove.

UNICEF Cards Aid World's Children

One glass of milk, rushed to one hungry child, will do a certain amount of good. The establishment of a powdered milk plant will do a lot more.

This very basic example may be enough, in its simplicity, to explain some of the philosophy of the world's greatest organization devoted entirely to the welfare of children.

With its very limited funds, supplied primarily by voluntary contributions from 119 countries, the Nobel Peace Prize-winning United Nations Children's Fund must make its dollars go far. The most lasting effect, the most long-range achievement must be sought.

UNICEF fights the great battle against the ravages of poverty, which constantly threaten and too often take the lives of millions of children, with an annual budget equivalent to what is spent on world armament in two hours. The devoted men and women who bear the responsibility of putting such monies to good use have become experts in the art of stretching every cent.

They are so efficient, in fact, that even such an apparently small contribution as the purchase of a single box of UNICEF Greeting Cards can spell the difference between life and death, between hope and despair for a sick and hungry child in Asia, in Latin America, in Africa, in the Middle East.

This thought has inspired 21 prominent artists from 11 countries to give their very best for this worthy cause. The designs they have contributed to the 1968 UNICEF Greeting Card selection is a fine example of talent being put at the service of humanity's most touching, helpless members. In the shadow of poverty, illness and malnutrition a child cannot fend for himself. Few ways of helping him could be more simple, attractive and rewarding than the purchase of UNICEF Greeting Cards.

ORDINANCE NO. 186 C.S.
AN ORDINANCE EXTENDING THE FORESTRY COMMISSION OF THE CITY UNTIL DECEMBER 31, 1972

THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF CARMEL-BY-THE-SEA DOES ORDAIN as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 270 of the Municipal Code be, and the same is hereby amended to read as follows:

"Section 270. The Forestry Commission of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea is hereby created, to continue until December 31, 1972."

SECTION 2. Effective Date and Statement of Urgency.

This ordinance shall take effect as an urgency ordinance, to be effective on its final passage and adoption, a statement of its urgency being as follows:

That unless the ordinance becomes effective on its final passage and adoption, the Forestry Commission will be dissolved as of the 31st day of December 1968, prior to the time this ordinance would become effective in the normal course of events. That this automatic dissolution of the Forestry Commission would be detrimental to the public health, safety and welfare, and that the activities of the Forestry Commission necessary for the preservation of our urban forest, and associated matters, would be interrupted pending its reorganization, and the interruption of the services of this commission pending its reorganization would be detrimental to the public health, safety and welfare of the city.

CERTIFICATION OF CITY CLERK

I, HUGH BAYLESS, the undersigned, City Clerk of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, California, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true and correct copy of Urgency Ordinance No. 186 C.S., which was read in full at a Regular Meeting of said City Council on the 4th day of December, 1968, and adopted at that Meeting by unanimous vote of said Council.

I further certify that upon its passage the foregoing Ordinance was signed by the Mayor of said City and attested by the City Clerk thereof.

DATED this 9th day of December, 1968.

Drive Ahead of Your Car

One of the most effective "tricks of the trade" in driving is that of driving ahead of your car.

Never be content to keep your attention on the road just ahead of your radiator. Look far ahead, advises the National Automobile Club. Look ahead to the traffic lights at the next intersection and get their timing, then you'll be able to pass through on the green without slowing or hurrying. Look ahead to where that driver is trying to force his way into the line of traffic, and then you'll be prepared for the inevitable slowing of that line. Look far ahead to where children or animals are playing on the sidewalk, and then you'll be prepared to meet the emergency of a child or animal running into your path.

One Luxury Item for your Xmas Sock: The Sea Cradle

We don't even want to hear from you if you buy your houses by the square foot or place no dollar value on intangibles like ocean views, beaches in your front yard, moon on the surf at night, or that elusive old "Carmel Charm". But if these things do have meaning for you, then you COULD be interested in the Sea Cradle and will be delighted to know that it is offered for sale for the first time on the public market. (Present owners bought it from its long-time owners after renting it summers for years). It's little, it's adorable behind its picket fence, its ceilings are vaulted and its roof is shake, cozy fireplace, and yes, it does have a big garage. It's a few steps from the beach and off that Scenic Drive "freeway", and its price is $55,000. Take a look and see if you can hang on to your heart.

Symphony Review

movement built up and up, while the cello declaimed robustly, with tone brilliant as steel.

After intermission came Beethoven's Symphony No. 2 in D Major which Taeuber conducted without a score.

With strong Beethoven accent and in a "joie de vivre" spirit opened the first movement, the music whimsically interthreaded. But the close of the movement was not whimsical, but strong and vehement.

A lilting melody, reiterated in the different sections started the second movement. Plunges from big orchestra to delicately molded effects in singing tone were subtly conveyed by the orchestra under the careful guidance of the conductor.

The scherzo was in throbbing rhythm, with a snake-like "run-up" in the cellos which was almost humorous. A grand finale in brisk tempo and with clean and precise attacks, brought the symphony to a dramatic close. The multi-faceted music was given a fine performance under Mr. Taeuber's strong leadership.
